

PRODUCT DISCLOSURE STATEMENT (PDS)

LLOYD'S OF LONDON BINDER (Brit)

This Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) contains important information required under the Financial Services Reform Act 2001. Before you decide to buy insurance from us, please read this PDS thoroughly and keep it, together with your policy wording when issued, in a safe place.

What is a PDS?

This PDS has been prepared to assist you in understanding the insurance policy and making an informed choice about your insurance requirements. This PDS sets out the significant features of the insurance policy including its benefits, rights and information about how the insurance premium is calculated. You still need to read the policy wording for a full description of the terms, conditions and limitations of the insurance policy when it is issued.

Livestock Insurance is Unique Insurance

Livestock Insurance is different to other types of insurance products. Firstly, you are covering a living animal with a mind of its own and it is therefore classified as high risk insurance. Secondly, all livestock policies are for a fixed period and are not renewed. After each period the insurer may, or may not, offer insurance for a new period.

Who are Logan Livestock Insurance Agency Pty Ltd (LLIA)?

LLIA is a Registered Insurance Broker with the Australian Securities and Investments Commission. Their ABN number is 81 001 826 204 and the Australian Financial Service Licence number is 238959. They were incorporated in 1981 and the Logan name has been involved in insurance broking since 1962.

In respect of this policy LLIA acts as agent of the insurance company under a binding authority granted by Syndicate 2987 at Lloyd's of London (Lloyd's). The binder agreement authorises LLIA to accept risks under certain terms and conditions or with referral to Lloyd's. The binder agreement also authorises LLIA to issue a Certificate of Insurance and to agree and/or settle claims under certain terms and conditions or with referral to Lloyd's. In this regard they are acting on behalf of Lloyd's and not the insured.

Further details on LLIA can be found in the Financial Services Guide or their website www.logans.com.au.

Who is the Insurer?

The Insurer is noted on the interim cover notice and/or the tax invoice. Under the binder arrangement the insurers are Syndicate 2987 at Lloyd's of London. Lloyd's of London are authorised to conduct insurance business in Australia under the Insurance Act 1973 (Cth) as amended in 1998. Lloyd's is a member of the Insurance Council of Australia, Insurance Enquiries & Complaints Ltd and proudly supports the General Insurance Code of Conduct.

Your Privacy

We treat your personal information with care. We will not release your personal information to anyone else other than Lloyd's of London, our Lloyd's broker, another insurer, an insurance reference service, or as permitted or required by law. In the event of a claim we, or Lloyd's of London, may disclose information and/or collect additional information about you to or from other insurers, reinsurers, insurance brokers or agents, bloodstock agents, assessors, investigators, professional advisors such as veterinarians, lawyers and valuers. Some of these may be outside Australia. Details about your privacy are shown on our website at www.logans.com.au or we can send you a copy of our Privacy Statement if you request it from us.

Your Duty of Disclosure

Before you enter into a contract of insurance you have a duty to answer all questions honestly. You also have a duty to tell us anything known to you and which a reasonable person in the circumstances would make known to us in answering the questions. The answers are used in deciding whether or not to accept the risk of insurance and, if so, on what terms. You have the same duty to disclose these matters to us before you extend, or vary this contract, or take out a new policy. If you fail to comply with your Duty of Disclosure, the insurer may be entitled to reduce their liability under the contract in respect to a claim, refuse to pay a claim, or may cancel the contract. If your non-disclosure is fraudulent, they also have the option of avoiding the contract from its beginning.

We rely upon the information you provide to us when you apply or amend your policy. You must tell us anything that you know, or should know, that could affect the insurance company's decision to insure you or your livestock, or could affect the insurance company's decision as to the terms under which the policy is issued.

How to Apply for Insurance

Complete our application/proposal form. If we or the insurance company accept your application and accompanying documentation, you will receive a schedule and policy wording that sets out details of the insurance you have taken out.

Cost of the Policy and Paying for Insurance

The cost of your policy is detailed within the coverage schedule. The cost is made up of your premium plus any applicable government taxes and charges. Payment for the policy must be made to LLIA. LLIA may receive a commission for their services. If you place your insurance through an insurance broker or other introducer, they may also receive some of the commission or fee following your purchase of the policy.

What Happens if you Do Not Pay the Cost of Your Policy?

We may cancel any part of the policy if you have failed to pay all or part of the premium.

Taxation Information

LLIA shows all taxes and charges as separate items on all schedules (e.g. Stamp Duty and Goods & Services Tax).

Notification in the Event of Illness, Injury or Death

Pre-Existing Injuries and Illnesses

The policy is not designed to cover pre-existing injuries or illnesses and as such an exclusion will apply for any pre-existing injury or illness.

Extension Period

A policy with a period of 12 months or more provides, in certain cases, an extension period of 90 days after the policy expiry date. For this extension to apply the animal must firstly be injured or become ill within the policy period and also, LLIA must be notified of the illness or injury prior to the policy expiry date. In such case, a claim can be lodged if the animal dies during the 90 day extension period as a result of the particular, notified illness or injury. For policies with periods less than 12 months no extension period would apply unless you specifically ask for and pay additional cost for the cover. A 12 month extension period is also available for an additional cost as an extension to a 12 month policy.

Cancellation

In the event of cancellation of the policy by the insured a short rate cancellation scale will apply or a minimum premium of $150 plus government duties and taxes will apply, whichever is the greater. The short rate scale is detailed in the policy. LLIA will retain its remuneration.
